

Prophecy Given At Word of Life

Wednesday 9/6/2006

"My people, this is I your lord and master speaking through this vessel. This is I, salvation anointing. Jesus, The Christ. Salvation anointing. How I long for my people to praise and worship me. How I crave for them to give themselves to me totally. Not for me, but this is what was established at the foundation of this Earth. This is how my Father said it would be. It is worship, it is praise, that opens the doors, that opens the gates, that lights the path, that makes the way before you present itself for you to walk on. It's praise, it's worship that sets me free to move in you. This is the way my Father established this realm to operate and there is no turning from it. It will be done my Father's way or it does not happen. How I long for you to give yourself in praise and worship. And that does not just mean in song, and in music that's part of it. But it encompasses all of your life. That is why the enemy has taken the principle my Father has established and he has perverted it and turned it to his benefit. Satan the fallen one cannot create anything. He can only mock and imitate and pervert. He was there when my Father said this is how it will be. He must operate within that bound. That is why as you have already been speaking and teaching and showing, that is why imagery and imagination and fantasy and fascination and idolizing and idolization is so huge in this world system. Because it is worship, it is adoration, it is praise and exaltation. It is taking something that is not a God and lifting it up to be like a god. And to exalt it and give it preeminence where one submits to it and adapts to it as a god. It is promoted it is put out in front of all the world to see its greatness and its splendor. Because he has taken the principle. It is the worship and the praise of the human being that opens the gate that opens the door into the spirit realm. He has taken that principle and he is using it against the people of this world and he needs the opening of the spirit realm to his side to be able to get into people's hearts and minds and lives to work in them. So he uses praise and worship. The same praise and worship that my Father said this is the only way that the spirit realm opens. This is the bound that must be worked within. He has taken and perverted it and twisted it, not for your benefit, for his benefit. Just like in the garden of Eden he is finding and establishing a way into the lives of the human being. So I say this night. Turn away from the idols. Turn away from the images. Turn away from the worship in imagination and fascination and come back to me, your God. And offer yourself to me. And if there's an imagination you want to set your heart on, set it on me and what I have for you and on what my word declares is possible for your life. Become fascinated with me and what my Father has available for you. Idolize me. There is no God but me. If you must chase after, chase after me with all our heart soul and mind and live. How I crave and long for the people of this world to worship and praise me. For it opens realms that are unopeneable without praise and worship. It will open opportunities and gates, it will lay out paths, and make roads smooth, it will call into being where there is no place to go, where there is no place for you to put your foot, there is no foundation there to take a step into your future praise and worship will lay the road before you. It will take that wall and blow a hole through it that it becomes a gate for you to step into blessing abundance that you have never seen or understood, for my bride will be with splendor. My Bride will be with splendor, it is called, it is written and it will be. Praise and worship is what sets the way before you. When my people don't praise and worship they stumble they fall they become exhausted, they sit down and there is no forward, there is no advancement, there's no movement. They that wait on the Lord will renew their strength.

Our enemy has tricked this world into waiting for him to come. And they will wait hours and days and years and lifetimes. It's a perversion of the principle. So let this heart and mind be in you. Let there be an anticipation in every moment of everyday of your life where you wait for me to show up and manifest. Where you wait for me by my hand to reach in and change something. Where you wait in anticipation for me to speak to you. Where you wait for me to wrap my presence around you. Where you wait for me to open doors before you, where you in anticipation every moment of your life are there before my throne waiting saying is this the moment, what is now, what is now, what is now, what will come an hour from now, what will come a day from now as you wait on me. It is worship. It is worship. You are offering yourself as a living sacrifice when you wait on me. It is worship. Wait on me. It will renew your strength and you will rise above and soar above whatever it is that has been laid out as a trap or a snare or a stumbling block to pull you down. You will lift up and the breath of my spirit as wings ride on the air as the eagles. You will rise up on the breath of my spirit and you will be above not beneath. You will be before not after, you will be the head not the tail. You will be the one who calls it, forms it, creating it to be in agreement with my will and my word, not the one who receives and absorbs and shudders at what is handed to them. You will do the choosing and in me we will chose together. How I crave for my people to worship me."
